

Associate Consultant, Strategy - Healthcare JD

About Decimal Health

Decimal.Health is a boutique digital health innovation consultancy and venture studio. We are a clinician-led company with over two decades of experience in digital health. As consultants we craft bespoke strategies for clients in the healthcare sector, and as a studio we spin out companies - from research labs of a hospital to commercial ventures with a hospital. We pride ourselves on our nimble approach that connects strategy with action, going deeper than traditional consulting firms by leveraging our real-world experience to ensure practical and impactful solutions.

We are seeking a dedicated and detail-oriented Associate Consultant to join our team. In this role, you will support strategy engagements and assist with the day-to-day project activities for startups, health systems, pharmaceutical companies, and Fortune 500 clients.
